

Jennifer Davis
Compact Commissioner
MIC3 Delaware

Jennifer Davis is currently serving as the Education Associate for Student Services and Special Populations at the Delaware Department of Education. Some of her duties include supporting school counselors, school social workers, students experiencing foster care, and military-connected youth throughout the state. In addition, she supports efforts related to suicide prevention, child abuse, response to school-related traumatic events, and serves as the educational liaison for child abuse and neglect.

Prior to joining the Department in 2014, Davis spent 14 years as a school counselor in alternative education settings, a juvenile secure care facility, and traditional public high school. Since 2012, she has held numerous leadership positions on the Delaware School Counselor Association Board, including President, High School Vice President, Professional Development Chair, and most recently Director and DOE Liaison. Mrs. Davis is a former adjunct faculty member at Wilmington University and earned her bachelor's degree in psychology from the University of Delaware, followed by a master's degree in School Counseling from Wilmington University.

She and her husband, Phil, have been married for 24 years and are the proud parents of Anthony, Isabelle, and Gabriella, and are the doting grandparents of Jack. They also have two Bernedoodles, Jax & Charlie, who help to keep them busy and entertained.