Defense Department School Liaison Program

The School Liaison Program offers an array of services and resources to support students, parents, installation leadership, schools and the surrounding community. School liaisons are located at each installation and serve as the primary point of contact for grades pre-K through 12 for education-related matters. They inform parents about local schools, graduation requirements, afterschool programs, homeschooling and much more. By working together with these stakeholders, the School Liaison Program builds a support network to provide the best possible education experience for military-connected children and youth worldwide.

The School Liaison Program goals are to:

- Identify barriers to academic success and develop solutions
- Promote parental involvement and educate local communities and schools about the needs of military children
- Develop and coordinate partnerships in education
- Provide students, parents and school personnel with the tools they need to overcome obstacles to education that stem from the military lifestyle.

School liaisons at each installation provide information and build partnerships with the civilian and military community to address common education challenges of military families. School liaisons are also an initial contact for participation in the Youth Sponsorship Program which helps build resilience in youth and ease transitions.

The school liaison:

- Serves as the primary point of contact for education-related matters
- Represents, informs and assists command
- Assists military families with educational issues
- Coordinates with local school systems
- Forges partnerships between the military, the community and schools

School Liaison Program support is free of charge and open to all DOD ID cardholders, educators who serve military-connected students, and community partners involved with pre-K through 12 education.
