

Ben Zumbahlen
State Relations Strategist
Education Commission of the States

Ben supports the State Relations Team by engaging with key state education policymakers and assisting with their policy priorities. He is a graduate of the University of Colorado Denver Business School, is an Army reservist, and most recently worked for the Colorado Department of Regulatory Agencies, following experience at the Colorado State Legislature and a college library. Ben also has a passion for music.